

ZAMBIAN PAPERS

1. Co-operation, leadership and village structure by Bruce Kapferer
2. The inaugural lectures of the University of Zambia
3. A phonemic analysis of Bemba by Mubanga E. Kashoki
4. Development of and factors in the employment of African migrants in the copper mines of Zambia, 1940-66 by Patrick O. Ohadike
5. Gathering among African woodland savannah cultivators
by Thayer Scudder
6. The growth of co-operatives in Zambia, 1914-71
by C. Stephen Lombard

THE COLOUR OF CLASS ON THE COPPER MINES

FROM AFRICAN ADVANCEMENT TO ZAMBIANIZATION

by
MICHAEL BURAWOY

ZAMBIAN PAPERS
No. 7

© 1972 UNIVERSITY OF ZAMBIA

Published on behalf of
THE INSTITUTE FOR AFRICAN STUDIES
UNIVERSITY OF ZAMBIA
P.O. Box 900, Lusaka
by
MANCHESTER UNIVERSITY PRESS
316-324 Oxford Road, Manchester M13 9NR

CONTENTS

The opinions expressed are those of the author alone

	page
Acknowledgements	vi
1. Introduction	1
2. History and structure of the industry and Copperbelt society	13
3. Zambianization—too fast or too slow? Forced succession	27
4. Obstacles to Zambianization: succession in a rigid organization	50
5. Zambianization and anomie: the question of window-dressing	59
6. Working class conservatism?	72
7. Pressure on the companies: where does power lie?	85
8. A paradox of Independence—Zambianization and the Government	98
9. Conclusion: the colour of class	114
Bibliography	118